

Mr. Joseph John Alix

August 23, 1974 - August 23, 2025

Joseph John Alix, 51, passed away on August 23, 2025. He was born in Plattsburgh NY on August 23, 1974 to John and Nancy (Brooks) Alix. He graduated from Chateaugay Central School in 1992, attended RIT, NCCC, and SUNY Plattsburgh, where he graduated with several Associate and Bachelor degrees in Business Administration and Management.

As owner and operator of Alix's True Value in Plattsburgh Plaza for 23 years, Joe was at his best helping customers with their various repairs and projects. He also loved camping, heavy metal music, and was a talented cartoonist and artist. His cooking and grilling skills were top notch. But above all that, he loved his children, Samantha and Michael, and said that they were his finest accomplishment. Joe was smart, goofy, witty, and utterly sarcastic, but he was also kind-hearted. He was a self-stated hugger and would want you to hug your loved ones close to you, as often as you can.

His maternal grandparents, Lyle and Bertha Brooks, and paternal grandparents Fernand and Irene Alix, predeceased him.

Joe is leaving behind his children, parents, siblings Shari and Jay, his one-and-only favorite niece Lily, all from Chateaugay, Store Mom Aunt Cora Smith, ex-wife Maura (Lockwood) Alix, and special friends Stacey Pulsifer and Sharon Raymond.

There are no public services. Close friends and family will have a private celebration of life at a later time.

“ Joe earned my gratitude and respect years ago when he saved me from a self inflicted plumbing error on a Sunday. He even took me in the back and taught me how to solder the pipe! Great guy. He only knew me as a customer in his store.

“ To the Alix Family: I'm sorry to hear of Joe's passing. I got to know Joe through the hardware store and through my business. He was always ready to help with the correct product, no matter how big or small. As time went on, when I went into the store, he always had time to spend with his customers, sharing a joke or two. When the store closed, I would see him at Lowe's and Walmart, and he still had that same customer interaction he had at Alix's. He will be missed.

Nancy, John, Shari, Jay and extended family. Please accept my sincere condolences for the untimely passing of Joey. Those of us who live here and watched the Alix children grow up, graduate, go on to college, and then return to work in the family business also share your loss. Rest in peace, Joey.

I had the pleasure of meeting Joe at Walmart when he was working in the hardware section. I was supporting a person that knew Joe and would only seek him to assist him in his merchandise needs. Joe was always polite and took his time being sure the customers needs were met. When I told him it was a pleasure to meet him and thanked him each time, I meant it for what I saw, was a man who cared and who took the time to go off subject to help make my persons day a lil brighter. It was more than a handful of times. The community lost a good person who loved his job and assisted above and beyond his position. 🕯
