“ Have known Terri since Bible school days... always appreciated his good humor, his faith in the Lord and his large family. He was always a blessing. Just so you know his family doubles our five and eleven. God's best to you all.
Would like to join you on Monday, but am not traveling too far in recent months...

“ Lucy and family...i was scrolling this morning and found Terri's obituary.

I am so sorry for your loss, even though he is now with our heavenly Father. I remember the youth group Bible studies and all the enjoyment it gave. Time goes by so quickly. I want you to know i will be with you and your family in heart on Monday.

“ Dear Lucy, I was greatly surprised when Nancy let me know of Terri’s homegoing. When Ruth went to be with the Lord, you and Terri were there to join others in bringing comfort to me. I wish I could be there to help bring comfort to you. The best I can do is to assure you that from experience I understand and share in your sense of loss but also the comfort of knowing that Terri is rejoicing in the presence of the Lord he loved. I pray that the Lord will comfort and strengthen you for the days ahead. In Christian love, Earle Smith.

“ Dear Lucy, it's been about 11 months since I've been where you are, so I know. Bless our Saviour God that our true loves are with Him enjoying what we are still dreaming of. Some day... In the meantime Jesus is saving us to the end. Sincerely, "in Christ",
Tim

“ Terri graduated the year after I did from Seaway. But in the seemingly brief lifetime that we've known each other, he has given me at least 2 amazing memories. Memory #1: while my wife was down state looking for an apartment for us to move to after my graduation, I invited Terri and Lucy over for lunch. I am not a chef, but I had learned how to cook toasted cheese sandwiches! And as I was showing off my newfound culinary skills, Terri said, "you do know that you are cooking for 3". I replied, "Sure - you, Lucy, and I". He looked at Lucy and proudly beamed, "No, WE 3". Little could he know then that after Bethany was born there would be 10 more children, great boys. Then Memory #2: Terri was pretty pleased and blessed to go back to school at SUNY Plattsburgh. He said he also had a part time job helping out the Dean. I asked Terri, "Is the Dean still Wallace Feldman?". Much to his surprise by my question, he replied, "Yes! Do you know him?". To which I replied, "Yes! He's my...brother!" I thought Terri was going to faint. When my mother died, Dad remarried...Dorothy Feldman, who had 2 sons, Jim and Wallace. Small world. Memories. Just the tip of the iceberg! We sorrow, but not as those with no hope!

My family wishes Terry a happy journey to His heavenly home and share our condolences with all He left behind. My parents, Edward and Regina Welch spent more than a few good times at the Thompsons after church on Sundays. It was long ago but the memories remain. Praise Jesus as He is risen so shall we be raised in glory to our loving, just and merciful Creator.
